Citizens have say on improvements Officials ponder paving, rec program

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

Romulus residents will be asked whether they want to pay for a multi-million dollar improvement program which will boost their recreational opportunities and pave every street in the city.

The Romulus City Council is expected to adopt a formal resolution which will put a $5 million recreation proposal and a $9 million paving proposal on the special Aug. 12 election ballot to sample public opinion on the need for the improvements.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt said he is proposing the plan "to offer the residents a choice on the services they want."

"We're proposing to build a massive recreation center which will feature swimming, ice skating, indoor tennis, basketball courts and meeting facilities," Troutt said. "Romulus has no indoor recreation opportunities available — not even a YMCA."

The $9 million bond for road improvements is proposed to pay for asphalt topping every city road and to provide funds for adequate drainage of those roads.

"People in Romulus deserve the good roads other communities have," Troutt said. "The reason people don't have these facilities is because they never were asked to vote for them in the past."

Cost estimates on the projects, both of which will be bond issues running for 15 years, will be a maximum of 1.45-mills for recreation and a maximum of 2.65-mills for road paving.

One mill is equal to $1 in taxes for every $1,000 in assessed valuation of property owned by a resident. The cost of the improvements for a person with a home valued at $20,000 would be $41 per year.

"We've estimated the costs on the conservative side," Troutt said. "In estimating the ability to pay, we didn't take into account all the potential development in Romulus, such as the promise by the General Motors Corp. to build twice as much at its site near Cogswell Road and Van Born Road as already is there."

The mayor said he will ask for a volunteer citizens committee to handle the election campaign chores. He added that the city will distribute information on the proposals to every homeowner in the community.

"We're planning to run a rally in July to help pay for the cost of the campaign," Troutt said. "At that time lots of information will be distributed."

"I'm confident the people will turn out to voice their opinion on this important matter.

"The city may be criticized for moving the special election ahead of the general election scheduled for September, but I think it's worth the extra cost to remove this thing from the political arena and to offer residents a clear view of the proposal."

"The issue needn't be clouded with politicians campaigning for office by saying they're for this or against it, when it's up to the people to decide whether they want it and are willing to pay for it."

The selection includes everything

Visitors to the first Romulus Community Mart earlier this month were welcomed with a pancake supper put on by the Romulus Kiwanis. Dorothy LaLonde (second from right) took the opportunity to bring her relatives from the West to the mart to show them the sights of Romulus. Mart chairman, Beverly McAnally, also took the opportunity to welcome the guests with some pancakes. Highlight of the mart was goods being sold by a Vietnamese family. Residents from throughout the community are being urged to attend 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. Persons interested in selling goods are urged to contact the Romulus City Council office by calling 941-0666 for information. Stalls for selling goods are $3 per day or $35 for the remaining 15 weeks of the season.

Stewart files lawsuit

A Romulus City Councilman is asking $2 million in damages in two separate suits against the city's mayor and attorney for "slander and defamation of character" in an incident started over an apparent "clerical error" in the city's assessing department.

Romulus Councilman James C. Stewart is suing Mayor Terry L. Troutt and attorney William S. Munger for $1 million each after claiming that both men slandered him and attempted to defame his character over an incident in which his commercial building was not listed on city tax rolls since 1971.

"They're both trying to smear me with their errors," Stewart said in filing the suit. "It's the city administration's fault that my building wasn't on the tax rolls, and yet they're trying to make it look like I was trying to get out of anything. I have absolute proof that they defamed me."

Stewart was not present at an early-April Romulus City Council meeting in which Troutt was asked by Councilman Jack Trumble to explain the mix-up which resulted in Stewart's $16,000 building not being entered on city tax rolls even though Stewart had moved into it in 1973.

However, City Council proceedings are taped for future reference by the Romulus City Clerk.

Stewart has retained the services of attorney Eugene Hoiby of Detroit in the suit.

Carriers collect

The carrier who delivers the Romulus Roman to your door will be calling on you to collect 75 cents for June. This pays you up through the issue of June 25.

Please try to have the correct change when your carrier calls. It is discouraging for him or her to have to call back, time after time.

If you have any special delivery instructions, please inform your carrier at this time.

When asked for a comment on the suit, Troutt said: "I don't have $1 million, so what can I do?"

"I'll defend myself in court," Munger was not available for comment on the matter.

Stewart maintains that he is suing both Troutt and Munger "as men" and not as city officials.

"As individuals I can sue them," Stewart said. "But as city officials, they have a certain amount of immunity from prosecution."

Since he claims he's suing both officials as individuals, Stewart believes the Romulus City Council has erred in action if it took to appropriate funds for both Troutt and Munger's defense.

"I'll wait and see if city funds are used to hire an attorney for them," he added. "Then if city funds are spent, I'll start a taxpayers suit, since funds can't be used to benefit individuals."

"I think it would be a misappropriation of funds, since I'm not suing the city."

Troutt is taking the suit lightly, despite the high price tag set by it. "He's spending a lot of money to take me to court," the mayor said. "If he had spent it on his taxes, then we wouldn't have had this trouble at all."

City records show that Stewart owes at least $360 in back taxes for his building for 1973. Officials are exploring the possibility of billing him for those taxes.

'Legacy' of pioneers remembered forever

Because they left a "legacy of love to the community," five deceased residents of the Wayne-Beverly roads area in Romulus will be remembered daily. Why? Because streets in the urban renewal area of the city have been dedicated in their honor and named after them.

The new streets, named at the Park and Street Dedication ceremony, include Hearst Street after Joel Hearst, Martin Street after Irene Martin, Jackson Avenue after Elder Horace Jackson, Hazel Court after Hazel Harrison and Beaman Court after Ed Beaman.

The more than 500 persons who attended the May 31 dedication, also honored Eugenio Fernandez, the first Romulus soldier to give his life in the service of his country in Vietnam, by naming a park in his honor.

The ceremonies planned by the Citizen's District Council of the American Progressive Association was titled "The Struggle" because it told the story of how a community of dirt roads and mostly ramshackled dwellings was rebuilt into what it is today.

Aside from the hundreds of local residents, in attendance at the dedication were State Rep. Jackie Vaught of Detroit, State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak (D-38th District), and a representative of Congressman William D. Ford's office, Helen Wainio.

Also attending were Romulus Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz, City Clerk Leonard Folmar, Mayor Pro Tem Beverly McAnally, City Council President Pro Tem Joan A. Lee and council members Lngg Coleman and William Oakley. Unable to attend, but sending letters of congratulations, were Sen. Philip Hart (D-Michigan), State Sen. William Faust (D-13th District), Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt and council members Fred Junior Block and James C. Stewart.

Eugene Wilson, president of the Romulus Democratic Club attended the ceremonies, however 15th District Democratic Committee Chairman Vincent J. Pelutren was unable to attend. He also sent a letter of recognition.

The ceremonies, which featured a parade, dedicated the streets and the park and included all local talent.

Mr. Beaman, who died in 1949, was born in 1881 in Clarksville Tenn., and moved to the Romulus area in 1941. He was recognized as being one of the founders of the American Progressive Association.

Mr. Hearst, who was born in Bradley, S.C., in 1904, was the founder of the first black-owned and operated grocery store. In addition, he was one of the first members of the Board of Trustees of the American Progressive Association.

Mrs. Harrison was a 20-year resident of Romulus who passed away in 1964. She was recognized for her service after working for two terms as the city's first woman justice of the peace.

Mrs. Martin, a 20-year resident of the community, was recognized for her fight as a member of the Corey School PTA to do away with a proposal to establish a segregated school in Romulus. She died in 1960.

Mr. Jackson, born in 1914, in Moberley, Mo., was the founder of the Bethany Apostolic Faith Church of Wayne in 1948. He was recognized for donating funds from his own pocket to purchase a 5.5-acre site for the church.

Mr. Fernandez was born in 1946 and suffered the fatal wounds May 9, 1968 while serving with the U.S. Marine Corps. The park is named in his honor.

'SALTY' VISITORS — The social studies class at North Junior High School was treated to a "salty" visit recently when two members of the Coast Guard, stationed at the base at Belle Isle, visited their class. The visit, set up by teacher Frank Hill, a reserve Coast Guardsman, was part of his teaching unit on careers stressing military service at home and those for non-high school graduates. Caught talking about that unit of the military service were Pat Fleming (left), Cathy Lyons (second from right), and Tom Montgomery with the two servicemen.

Minister, congregation to observe 30th year

A Romulus minister and his 600-member congregation are preparing to celebrate 30 years together this Sunday.

The congregation of the Calvary Baptist Church of 11338 Ozga Road, Romulus, will be holding a pot-luck dinner following the 11 a.m. service Sunday to honor The Rev. Lonnie England, who is celebrating his 30th year as head of the congregation.

The Rev. England marked his 30th year on June 17.

It was in 1945 when he traveled from the Arlington, Tex., Baptist School to the city.

"I've lived in Romulus since 1941, when I moved here from Tennessee," The Rev. England said. "I worked at the old Cestead Foundry and decided to leave to study for the ministry.

"It's a decision I never will regret."

During his 30 years at the head of the Romulus flock, the minister had seen his congregation's membership grow to more than 600 and the Sunday School attendance top 300.

Each Sunday more than 150 persons come to worship at the Church.

But the growth of the congregation was difficult. It wasn't until 1950 that The Rev. England could quit his job in the shipping room of the foundry to work fulltime in the ministry.

Sunday will include not only the regular 11 a.m. service, but also a special 2 p.m. service to mark the anniversary.

"I believe entering the ministry was the best decision I've made in my life," said The Rev. England. "I've come across a number of very fine people and wouldn't want to change that for anything.

"I've been very fortunate, and thankful for this experience."

Residents are patients at Beyer Memorial

Several Western Wayne County residents were among patients at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti recently.

Among proud parents in the Belleville-Romulus community were Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Quinn of the I-94 Service Drive, the parents of a 9lb.-9 oz. boy, born June 7.

Also new parents were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Massengill of Willis Road, a 7-pound girl, June 10; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wood of Birch Drive, an 8 lb.-9 oz. boy, June 10, and Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Spedowski of Church Street, 8 lb.-5 oz. girl, June 11.

Medical patients were Mrs. Harold R. Barry of Belleville Road, Belleville; Andrew H. Shipway of Carmell, Belleville; Albert G. Park of Marlowe, Belleville; Edward McKelvie of Denton Road, Belleville, and Mrs. Joseph Gilkerson of Rustic Lane East, Belleville.

Surgical patients were Mrs. Ernie Crowder of Mott Road, Belleville; Ronald Barrett of Jackson, Belleville, and Mrs. Denzil Crum of Fairview Court, Belleville.

Communities join up in mental health panel

A citizens' Mental Health Organization is being formed to plan, develop and implement comprehensive mental health programs for southwest Wayne County. The new association will serve the cities of Belleville, Romulus, and Taylor and the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren.

Interested residents from these areas are invited to participate in a meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday to review, modify and hopefully adopt the proposed draft of bylaws for the association.

The public meeting will take place at Romulus Senior High School, 9650 S. Wayne Road, Romulus.

Persons interested in reviewing the proposed bylaws prior to the meeting or obtaining further information may contact Alton Shelly, Family and Neighborhood Services, 37064 Goddard Road in Romulus at 941-9590, or Ken Strzalka, Wayne Division of United Community Services, 24321 Van Buren Road, Taylor at 292-4111.

Citizen participation is urged so that services developed will be responsive to the needs of the area.

A clergyman can not control his hours...He has an around the clock, 24 hour job, 7 days a week. He is subject to call in times of misfortune, sickness or death. He is prepared to respond any time of day or night. And, incidentally, unlike many other people, he does not get double time for overtime.
This brings up an interesting point. Can you imagine how people would feel or what they would say if their minister failed to show up for Sunday service because he was "up late the night before"? Can you imagine how people would feel or what they would say if their minister stayed away from church on Sunday and preferred to stay in bed because he had a tough or exhausting week? Can you imagine how people would feel or what they would say if he stayed home because of bad weather? Or because he wanted to play golf or go fishing?
When you think of these things, can you imagine how a minister must feel when he sees people practice two sets of rules - one for themselves and another for him?...

Officials continue push to build park system

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of The Roman Staff

There has been steady though quiet movement toward improving

Romulus parks during the past few weeks. Following the opening of the new Henry Ruff Park at Henry Ruff and Beverly roads in the city, Romulus officials have been busy making arrangements to file forms for the development of a park on Cogswell Road and to begin work on another park near the Meadows Subdivision. The officials will be making a visit to the Romulus Board of Education in the near future to discuss the possibility of making the temporary agreement on a more than 7-acre site a long term lease to raise the possibilities of improving the land.

"The city has money available in the budget to continue the parks program," said Mayor Terry L. Troutt. "Plans now are to have at least a ball diamond open on the new property behind the Merriman Elementary School and another diamond ready on the land by the Meadows Subdivision."

"At least that will furnish some recreation for youngsters this summer."

However, Troutt said he hopes the city can make more permanent arrangements on the Meadows property to apply for a state parks development grant, making the land one of the eight recreation areas promised to citizens in Romulus in 1973 during the mayoral campaign.

"With state funds, the city can develop a full park in the Meadows," Troutt said. "That's important because of the high population density in that area of the city."

To date, the officials have been somewhat lucky in obtaining park land, getting the Henry Ruff Park donated to the recreation program by Wayne County, receiving permission from the school board to develop a full park on the Merriman site and to develop a temporary park near the Meadows Subdivision and obtaining an agreement from a developer to use land near Wabash and Cogswell roads for recreation.

The Cogswell Road park was a purchase of half the acreage with the developer donating the other half of the 15-acre site.

The donation of the other land was enough to give the city an "in kind" contribution to obtain a state grant on development.

Original plans on the proposed park system, which also includes the Elmer Johnson Park on Ozga Road as a major central park, were to spend more than $1 million for eight recreational sites.

"I think the program has been successful to date when you consider that more than 200 youngsters each day are using the Henry Ruff Park only weeks after it was opened," Troutt added. "That's the kind of participation in the park system which makes us feel good about the program."

The Elmer Johnson

Park, recently constructed with the use of federal funds, will be the site of a mass city picnic this summer, sponsored by the Romulus Bicentennial Commission.

"It looks good that the Merriman Park will be completed in time to have most school kids use it during the summer," Troutt said. "That will give us three parks toward our goal of eight."

Despite the progress, city officials are seeking other sites for possible recreational development, particularly in the northeastern and southern sections of the city. "We're hoping to have sites near all the major population areas," Troutt said. "To date, we've had luck. I hope it continues."

Parents vow lawsuit over league's cup rule

An 8-year-old Romulus girl will be the center of a "fight for women's rights" when her parents sue the Romulus North Little League.

Nancy Winnard, a second-grade student who decided to play Little League baseball after a winter of "nothing to do" has become the center of a civil rights battle over rules in the Romulus North Little League which require her and other girls to wear an athletic protective cup while playing.

The Romulus North Little League Board of Directors passed a rule May 5 declaring that "all players" be required to wear the protective cup, even though the equipment is designed to protect a male's groin area. "I think the rule was passed to exclude girls from play," said Nancy's mother, Martha Winnard, 31. "Nancy and several other girls started practicing with teams in mid-April, and the rule was passed in early May."

"Then, on June 5 after eight games, someone decided it was time to check for cups."

Mrs. Winnard added that other girls in the league have worn the equipment. But she said her daughter does not like to wear it because it's too uncomfortable.

"I've checked with her pediatrician, and he said there is no medical reason a girl should wear an athletic cup," Mrs. Winnard said. "But the league says it's a rule."

Mrs. Winnard and her husband, David, 32, have retained Joseph Walsh to represent them in a suit against the Romulus North Little League.

"We don't want money from them, but a clarification of the rules," Mrs. Winnard said. "I think the rule they've made is one way they've decided to circumvent the Supreme Court ruling allowing girls to play in Little League."

"And I don't think it's fair."

A spokesman for the Romulus North Little League has indicated that the league will fight the battle in the courts.

However, the U.S. Little League headquarters has indicated that no national funds will be contributed to the fight, since it is not a formal Little League rule that all players be required to wear athletic protective cups.

Post office will join civic center complex

Romulus' downtown business community has been dealt a blow by the federal government.

The U.S. Postal Service has announced the plans to build a new postal facility, not on Goddard Road and Shook Road — the city's business district — but on Wayne Road approximately 850 feet south of Goddard Road near the Romulus City Hall.

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) revealed plans for the new building in a release Friday.

The new structure will be 21,000 square feet in size and will be valued at $1 million.

Plans call for designing the structure during the next two or three months and letting bids on construction by the end of the year. Construction will be completed in January 1977.

Mayor Terry L. Troutt hailed the announcement "as another boost to a civic center area for Romulus."

"The site will give the citizens a post office, city hall, library and possible sites for a district court and recreational center within walking distance of each other."

The postal facility will replace the existing post office and annex which now serve Romulus.

The post office building presently serves as a service center while the annex houses equipment and motor vehicles needed for carrier routes.

The present post office annex has no loading docks for postal vehicles and no heating, according to a spokesman from Ford's office.

The new facility will be wholly-owned by the federal government.

In the past, the postal service rented facilities back from contractors.

City Council votes to join SEMCOG

The Romulus City Council has voted to join the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

Romulus, located in the southwestern portion of Wayne County, took membership in SEMCOG under consideration this spring because the city was "a victim of other people's decision-making," according to Mayor Pro-Tem Beverly McAnally.

"This town is criss-crossed with highways and expressways," Mrs. McAnally said. "Fully one-third of our area is taken up by Detroit Metropolitan Airport."

"We feel that by working with other governmental units we can gain a great deal of current information and can have greater input into the future of our little community."

Mrs. McAnally, who led the City Council's interest in joining SEMCOG, noted that another influencing factor was the organization's role as the federal grant application review agency for the region.

The decision of Romulus along with Augusta Township, to join SEMCOG brings the agency's current membership to 101.

SEMCOG is a voluntary association of counties, cities, villages, townships and intermediate school districts in the 7-county region of Southeast Michigan.

Its principal function is long-range planning for transportation, land use, housing, criminal justice, recreation, sewer, water and storm drainage.

Let's honor America...celebrate

What more appropriate time to seek out the nation's philosophical foundations than now, the eve of the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence? One hundred and ninety-nine years ago this fourth day of July, the Continental Congress adopted the resolution of independence without one dissenting vote. It meant that the 13 Colonies of America were united, free and independent. A new nation began its great experiment under law, a written constitution. The successes achieved since July 4, 1776, can be traced directly to the strong foundation laid by the founding fathers and their collective expression of an extraordinary quality of thought, speech and action. We have much to celebrate, but we must do more than that. Each generation has been called on to accept the challenge of a different crisis, and each generation has lived up to its responsibility. There must be a rededication to the past, an awareness of the present, and a plan for the future. We must share the same spirit and determination as those founders to solve the complex problems that lie ahead. We need to view this great anniversary as a time to come together and to meet the challenges of the known and the unknown as we observe the birthday, honor the spirit and begin the third century. So from one end of this nation to the other, "...America is only you and me," as Walt Whitman so aptly described it. Then, let's honor America by participating in this splendid birthday present to each of us from all of us. And, it will be a better place if it were done by the people from one end of the country to the other. What can we do? Nothing sweeping and spectacular perhaps, but it is a rare community which doesn't have unresolved problems which call for diligent citizens' participation, for fresh ideas, for a measure of unselfish works. Accordingly, we will be more firmly bound to the country we inhabit. It will help assure the continuity of the philosophy of individual freedom and individual responsibility.

As they see it

Credibility must be improved

To the editor: Every poll you see says that many of the public don't like or believe business. It's amazing that this attitude of the public toward business has become so bad when you consider that the consumer actually is the beneficiary of all the wonderful things our economic system produces. Part of the reason for the lack of credibility and hostility toward business undoubtedly is its own fault. It has made some mistakes in the past. But part of it arises from other things too. The public is concerned about both the recession and inflation. They feel prices are too high. They also are concerned about the energy problem. So what's happening is that people are questioning things that they used to take for granted. Our good communications and media complicate things too. People hear a lot about the faults of business and rightly or wrongly build up opinions that are not justified on the whole. So business is operating in a very skeptical, if not hostile atmosphere. The results of some surveys by Opinion Research Corp. (ORC) reflect some of these influences. Back in the early '60s when everything was going well, people had a pretty good opinion of business. Eighty-three percent of those polled in 1961 thought large companies were essential to the nation's growth. Happily, 81 percent still do. However, back in 1961, 59 percent of the public thought that profits of large companies helped make things better for everyone. Now only 46 percent think so. ORC also has developed a kind of index that shows what percentage of people have a high degree of approval for business, how many have a moderate approval, and how many have little approval for business. The high approval has gone down from 10 percent in 1960 to 8 percent now while the low approval has gone up from 52 to 67 percent. It's fashionable to say that public confidence in all institutions — you might say the establishment — drastically has gone down, and that's partly true. But ORC figures show, for example, that 63 percent of the public still has high regard for the churches, 50 percent still respect doctors and 48 percent still have confidence in the military. It's interesting that 36 percent respect the Supreme Court, and 21 percent respect the Congress.

Unfortunately, the lack of business credibility is more and more being reflected in a public attitude that government should regulate business a great deal more than it does now. A brand new survey that has just been made by Compton Advertising, Inc., for the Department of Commerce shows that 56 percent of the American public wants more government regulation of business. It also shows that a great majority of Americans are negative toward our free enterprise system and consider big business a villain. This survey reportedly has prompted the Advertising Council, Inc., to consider a public service ad campaign that would try to sell our system to the public. Some advertising already is doing a fine job of this. The oil companies especially have been doing a good job since the energy crisis. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States also has several efforts in this field. Other remedies for the lack of business credibility are easier to accomplish and less expensive. Many media people say they don't believe or like business because business doesn't level with them. Yet, that's really pretty easy to do and doesn't cost a thing. It's also true that some corporate executives don't like to talk to the press or radio or TV. Some how they're afraid of reporters. Yet, they needn't be if they are willing to tell the truth and talk frankly with the media. Again, surveys show that the public is most misinformed about exactly the things the businessmen are best informed about — about profits, about prices and wages and inflation and their relationships to each other. So if businessmen can set some of the facts straight it will not only help their companies. In the long run it will help public understanding of our whole system.

The Rizzos do good

To the editor and Mrs. Rees: Childish, is the last word I would have expected to hear used to describe Al Rizzo. No one can begin to know the many good things this man and his wife do for our community. I will touch on a few so maybe you can feel just a little ashamed. How about all the sandwiches to feed the hundreds of kids who helped on the lake cleanup, financial backing to get the Little League football off the ground, discount prices and free prizes to many non profit organizations, financial support of the Little League baseball teams and bowling teams for a few to start. Have you opened a program to any community program, a church bulletin or a year book from school without seeing an ad for Foodville? The outside condition of his store is not always the fault of the owner. Any number of new awnings probably would not survive the night in that area during the summer. Maybe this condition will improve now, with the opening of the new arcade on our end of town. I switched to Foodville and do most of my shopping there now. Why? I shop for seven every week so low cost is the main reason. His employees are friendly and polite and do not hesitate to locate items not readily found. I like shopping where I can get a book to read in my spare (?) time, a pair of tennis shoes for tomorrow's gym which fell apart today, or a potted plant for the convalescent home. See, that has saved me three trips already and saved not only time but fuel. They will order things out of season on request, secure things I need for my scouting projects and slice hams for my banquets. Even with only one bag of groceries between major shopping, they always are bagged for me and carried to the car in a cleaned off parking lot in the winter or the pouring down rain in the summer. They show they are interested in their business by one of them always being there. They care about their community and do their best to help it and their customers. I intend to support their store with my business and wish to extend my gratitude to both of them for all they have done for my children by supporting these community projects. We need more businessmen like them. Charlene McNally of Belleville

As they see it Praise Carr and Bayes

To the editor: We, as parents of the Romulus graduation class of 1975, would like to commend Mr. Carr of the senior high school and Mr. Bayes and his staff who were responsible for a very successful class cruise, a well-supervised trip and a safe return. A good time was had by all. We wish to thank them. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Meldrum of Romulus

Questions officials

To the editor: Recently a Romulus councilman received a great deal of publicity regarding the payment of his property taxes. Our city government seems to feel that all taxpayers are responsible for any money owed the city. I heartily agree with this attitude. On the other side of the coin, I believe that the city is responsible for the prompt billing of city taxes owed by the taxpayer. Also, I must object to the frivolous way that some of our tax money is being spent. I am referring to the two school elections in Romulus — one for the millage renewal and the other for the school board. Do we need to spend the taxpayers money on a two elections? Why couldn't the two school elections be combined? If would appear that the supply of tax money is inexhaustible. The real question here is: Are some public officials dispensable because they needlessly waste the taxpayer's money. James R. Nesler of Romulus

THE BETSY ROSS

THE BENNINGTON

Observe Bicentennial; Wear flag lapel pins

The nation's Bicentennial is just around the corner and there's a way that you can help celebrate daily and show your pride in your country by wearing a historical flag lapel pin.

And to allow local residents to show that pride, Associated Newspapers is offering the pins for sale at 50 cents each. Two different pins are being offered for sale.

One shows today's flag crossed with the flag of nearly 200 years ago, the Betsy Ross, finished in 18K gold, with clutch back for use on lapel, shirt or blouse.

The other pin shows today's flag crossed with the Bennington "Spirit of '76" flag. This flag, with its unusual arrangement of stars and stripes, flew over the military stores in Bennington, Vt. on Aug. 16, 1777. Gen. John Stark's militia led the Americans in decisively defeating a large British raiding force, thus protecting the precious military supplies at Bennington.

The battle improved the morale of the American forces and so weakened Gen. Burgoyne's army as to aid in its capture at Saratoga. It was the first stars and stripes used on land by American armed forces.

The Betsy Ross flag is considered the first stars and stripes. The Continental Congress resolved on June 14, 1777: "that the flag of the 13 United States by 13 stripes, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

Unfortunately, the Congress in this first flag resolution did not specify an arrangement for the stars in the union, and as a result there were many variations in flags that followed.

But regardless which you choose, the Betsy Ross or the Bennington, wearing the Bicentennial pins will show your neighbors and friends your pride in these United States.

The pins are the first in a series of Bicentennial items which will be sold by Associated Newspapers — The Daily Eagle and The Canton Eagle.

The pins will be available at a discount in quantity orders of 25 or more for organized groups. They will be selling at 35 cents for quantity order. Single orders are 50 cents apiece or three for $1.25. For information about the pins, or other Bicentennial items, contact the Associated Newspapers Circulation Department at 729-4460, stop by the newspaper office at 35540 Michigan Ave., Wayne or send in the handy coupon, with your check or money order.

Train brings Bicentennial memorabilia

When the American Freedom Train arrives in Detroit at the Penn Central Station, 17th and Vernor, for a 16-day stay Saturday through July 6, it will be displaying a rare collection of historical treasures spanning 200 years in celebration of the nation's Bicentennial.

The display will reflect the contributions of every state in the Union, including Michigan.

Shortly after the turn of the 20th Century, "Old Scout," a 1904 Oldsmobile, won the first transcontinental race outperforming "Old Steady," a second Olds. The winning model is on display in one of the showcase cars of the 25-car American Freedom Train. "Old Scout" is on loan from the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors Corp. in Lansing.

An early 1900 automobile steering wheel, buggy wheel and car wheel with tire, part of a display reflecting the progress of transportation on America, are on loan from the Alfred P. Sloan Jr. Museum of Flint.

When Thomas Edison was growing up in Michigan, he worked on the railroad selling popcorn and candy. In his free time, he sneaked off to the baggage room where he secretly mixed chemicals for his experiments.

After accidentally mixing a combination that turned out to be nitroglycerin, Edison's brilliant future was in jeopardy, but he went on to give the world more than 1,000 inventions.

A number of Edison's inventions are included in the Freedom Train's "Innovations" car. On view is the Amberola 30 phonograph that was developed by Edison in 1911. Its unique feature is that the recordings are on a wax cylinder rather than the disc. This ornate phonograph cost between $200 and $600 dollars.

The train will be open for public viewing each day from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. and to 12 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Tickets are $2 for adults; $1 for youths 18 and under or senior citizens 65 and older. The Detroit Bicentennial will receive 25 cents from all tickets sold in advance to help underwrite the cost of the train's visit.

PLAZA SUITE — Jon Hale and Dorothy Florain strike a pose during the Players' rehearsal of Neil Simon's "Plaza Suite." They star as a couple who face the problem of enticing their daughter out of the bathroom on her wedding day, while Bob Burris and Maxie Jo Haase (below) portray a middle-aged couple who end up in their honeymoon suite while the house is being painted. The play will be presented Friday and Saturday at the Belleville High School Auditorium.

4 parks provide swimming facility

Four Huron-Clinton metroparks are providing swimming facilities in lakes or pools for Western Wayne County residents. Lake swimming is provided at Metro Beach Metropark near Mt. Clemens, which also has a pool; Stony Creek Metropark near Utica-Rochester and Kensington Metropark near Milford, while Lower Huron Metropark offers pool swimming. Generally swimming times are 10 a.m. to dusk.

Individual Metropark schedules will depend upon weather and staff available.

At Metro Beach Metropark near Mt. Clemens, there is swimming in Lake St. Clair and in the olympic-sized pool. Open daily, depending upon weather conditions.

At Stony Creek Metropark near Utica-Rochester, there is swimming in Stony Creek Lake at Baypoint or Eastwood Beach sites. One beach site is open daily, weather permitting, both on weekends and then daily about mid-June.

At Kensington Metropark near Milford there is swimming in Kent Lake at Maple or Martindale beaches. One beach site is open daily, weather permitting, both on weekends and then daily about mid-June.

And at Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville the swimming pool is open daily. Hours are 10:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and holidays, and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on week days.

Persons should swim in designated swimming areas only and only when lifeguards are on duty, and should observe the rules of water safety at all times.

Players set to stage Simon's 'Plaza Suite'

The Players, formerly the Belleville Community Players, are finalizing the minute details in readiness for their upcoming production, "Plaza Suite," by Neil Simon.

These three 1-acts contain devilish roles and are filled with funny lines which will inspire laughter from the beginning to the end, one Player member said.

In Act 1, Bob Burris and Maxie Jo Haase portray a middle-aged couple who have been married 23 years. Karen, (Maxie) purposely plans the painting of their home to coincide with their anniversary, thus ensuring the need to spend the night "together" in their original honeymoon suite.

The play ends in irony as Karen's carefully laid plans dissolve before her eyes.

Act 2 has Joe Adams and Sharon Matthews enacting the roles of childhood sweethearts who are reunited after 17 years.

Entertainment

Although they are the original small-town type, Jesse Adams, now is a successful Hollywood producer and is in town on business. For a lark, he calls Muriel (Sharon) and invites her up to his suit and with diabolical intentions, plies her with drinks.

Muriel, on the other hand, is a fantasizer and lives what she considers the dull life of wife and mother.

In Act 3, Jon Hale and Dorothy Florian, as parents of the bride, experience the usual agonies and frustrations accompanying a wedding. But, there is one small complication... the bride has locked herself in the bathroom and refuses to come out.

"Plaza Suite" is scheduled for performance Friday and Saturday at the Belleville High School Auditorium. The curtain rises at 8 p.m. and tickets may be purchased at the door.

Boaters follow rules

Watercraft operators using the boat launching ramps at Metro Beach Metropark near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropark near Utica and Kensington Metropark near Milford are reminded that they must comply with the Marine Safety Act of 1967, local watercraft ordinances and rules of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority.

According to James J. Pompo, deputy director of the HCMA, these include: the registration of all motorized craft, and all sailcraft, 12 feet and over — a new rule in 1975 — so all craft must carry MC numbers before launching at any site in the State, watercraft operators are required to pay the Metropark boat launching or boat entry fee and those using Stony Creek Lake or Kent Lake in Kensington Park also must be registered at the park office prior to being launched on authority property.

| K&K Underground     | 9,007.50  |

Motion Kelly support Maton, to put the final bill on the Township Hall addition from J.L. Sheldon Const. on the voucher list. Carried.

Motion Domen, support York, to state we have no objection to Roy Roeser's request for a conservation pond on Haggerty Rd. Carried.

Motion Kelly, support York, to pay the Michigan Twp. Assoc. dues and ask for an explanation of the cost figures. Carried.

Motion Domen, support York, to allow the I-94 road builders to buy the sand piled at the township dogpound site at 45c a yard and replace with clean fill and grade. Motion carried 4 to 1. Kelly voted no.

Motion Domen, support Kelly, to approve the engineer to design and have ready the specifications for the 12" waterline from Boelters to the Riviera property before the I-94 is built. Carried.

Motion Maton, support Kelly, to advertise for bids 535 L.F. of 10" sewer on Michigan Ave. to Boyers market. Carried.

Mr. Gollwitzer explained the request received from the D.N.R. to tie into City of Belleville sewer instead of the Township sewer. This will be brought before the board at the next regular meeting.

Mr. Smith, a Haggerty Rd. resident, spoke to the board in behalf of the citizens complaining of conditions at the paving site. A small service drive is provided on the east side of the road but none on the west side. The road base is dug out 3 feet deep and citizens crossing the road from the west side to get to their cars on the east have to go down a 3' ft. embankment (mud at times) and back up 3 ft. to the other side. Motion Domen, support Kelly, to send a resolution to the Wayne County Road Commission stating the problems of health, safety, fire and police protection, now and what could arise, along with the petition signed by the residents of the area. Carried.

Mr. Smith of Haggerty Rd. also spoke on the unsightly mess at Stanson Wrecking located on Haggerty Rd. and presented some pictures of the junk site. Ordinance Officer Bracken stated that Mr. Geldys of Stanson Wrecking is slated for court trial June 16, 1975 at 2 PM Mr. Roulett, Mrs. B. Thomas, Mrs. I. Harris, Mrs. D. Smith and others all spoke against the unsightly condition, the rats, and the trucks going to the site tearing up the temporary service drive. They were told that at this point the Township is doing everything it can. The citizens could help by appearing in court on June 16. They also were told that pictures and a story in the paper would not hurt the case.

Motion Cullin, support Kelly, to approve Treas. York attending the National Treasurers Conference in Hawaii on the stipulation she pay the air-fare over and above the price of a ticket to Washington D.C. Carried 4 to 1. Domen voted no.

Mr. Livoirno complained of 2 - 12" loud speakers installed on outside of neighbors house and loud rock music being played all day and asked the Township to pass an ordinance against it. After much discussion a motion was made by Cullin, supported by Maton, to have the Ordinance Dept. handle it with the ordinances we have now and if need be seek the help of the township attorney. Carried.

Motion Maton, support Kelly, to approve the resolution of postponement of auction of state acquired property. Carried.

Maton reported he received the M.T.A. recommendation on Safety Commissions and referred it to the Twp. attorney for study and recommendation.

Motion Maton, support Domen, to accept all the departmental reports as presented. Carried.

Supervisor Gollwitzer recommended to the Board that the proposed airport board be assembled and have at least 1 meeting by July 1 before meeting with the Task Force. Motion Cullin, support Maton, that Supervisor Gollwitzer to have nominations for our appointments to the airport board at the next meeting. Carried.

Motion Domen, support York, to approve the voucher lists as presented. Carried.

Mr. Roberts spoke concerning the Townships Little League Ball Park and what he felt was suppose to have been done there. Domen said he spoke to many Little League people and they were satisfied with what had been done. Supervisor Gollwitzer stated that much more was done for the Township Little League Ball park than the Little League organization ever asked for. Little League had simply asked the township if we could possibly get them a piece of land so they could build ball diamonds and wouldn't have to worry about being displaced at a later date. Thru a lot of effort on the part of the Township, Ford Motor Co. and Wayne Disposal agreed to provide back stops, fenced in dugouts, parking lot and last but not least the clearing and grading of the park site. Also water and sewer was provided to the site by the Township. The board assured Mr. Roberts that regardless of what has been said or done, they would continue to do for the Little League when ever possible.

Mrs. Howard asked if there was any truth to a new large 700 P.U.D. complex being planned for on Tyler Rd. west of Haggerty. She was told that plans have been sent to the Planning Commission, but that's far as it has gone.

Motion Domen, support Maton, to adjourn.

Meeting adjourned at 9:32 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
PATRICIA CULLIN, CLERK
Van Buren Township

'WOODY' WORK — Manning the new benches being installed in the hall ways of Belleville's South Junior High School are assistant principal John Forsyth (from left), eighth grade representative Michelle Pyshnk, Student Council vice-president Tina White, ninth grade representative Barb Kasprowiez, seventh grade representative Sandy Sienko, Student Council president Larry Pingston and Student Council advisor Richard Kiessel. The installation of the benches was one of the major projects undertaken by the council this year.

At school

Students construct benches

One of the projects of Belleville South Junior High School's Student Council this year was to build benches to be placed around the school, a job the group has accomplished.

The council designed, cut, and fabricated the benches from rough material, placing a total of seven (7) benches, the smallest, called the "Bosses Bench," being 15 inches wide and 3 feet long, in the halls. The largest bench is 30 inches wide and 18 feet long.

The benches cost approximately $500 and took about six weeks to build. The funding was raised by fun nights and other activities held by the Student Council. The benches have been dedicated to this year's Student Council Advisor, Richard Kiessel, by the Council's Executive Board.

Advisor, Richard Kiessel, by the Council's Executive Board.

Red Cross needs aides

Young people age 14 and older can serve their community this summer as Red Cross volunteers.

"Youth volunteers provide an invaluable service tutoring younger children, assisting in day care centers, serving the elderly in nursing homes and working as hospital aides," said Maryann Haggerty, Youth Service Programs field representative.

In Western Wayne County volunteers are needed to serve at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Allen Park and the Convalescent Hope Care Center in Westland.

Red Cross requests that volunteers have their own transportation and a minimum of one day a week available for volunteering.

Registration ends Friday. For more information call 833-4440.

School plans event

Former students of Lincoln High School in Ypsilanti will be holding a class reunion June 21 in Ann Arbor.

The Lincoln High School Alumni Association is sponsoring the 50th year reunion for all students of the school at the Holiday Inn West on Jackson Road in Ann Arbor at 7:30 p.m. June 21.

Tickets for the event are $8 and reservations can be made by calling Carol Kavalak at 461-6838 prior to Friday.

Rotary to host tourney

The Belleville Rotary Club is preparing for its annual golf outing scheduled for Tuesday.

Cos of the outing, which will be held at the Washtenaw Country Club, will be $25.

The admission will include golf, the rental of a cart and dinner.

Door prizes will be raffled off at the outing.

County protests cuts in health care fund

A budget cut proposed by President Gerald Ford is being protested by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners as jeopardizing health services for 10,000 low-income mothers and infants in Wayne County after July 1.

A resolution opposing the proposed cutback in Federal Title V Child Health Care funding was adopted unanimously by the 27-member board recently.

Unless increased by Congress, the Ford budget would reduce from $4.5 million to $3 million the budget for the combined Detroit Maternity and Infant Care (DMIC) and PRESCAD (Preschool, School-age and Adolescent) projects in Wayne County.

The protest resolution was recommended by the Board's Human Resources Committee whose chairman, Commissioner Jarrette Simmons (D-Detroit), said: "In terms of services there is no way they could absorb that kind of cut without cutting down on their clinics."

She estimated that one-third of the 30,000 women and children presently using the county program would be affected. More than 100,000 children and 40,000 women have been registered through the program's network of 14 neighborhood and hospital-based centers.

Mrs. Simmons named the options for people if they are cut from the program.

The DMIC Program began in 1963 as a result of studies which showed that poor health was a major factor in poor school performance.

Help line aids seniors with daily contacts

The Senior Citizens' Help Line has established a telephone reassurance program for senior citizens.

The purpose of the telephone reassurance is to provide daily telephone contact for any senior who is isolated or has medical problems or for any other reason would like to be contacted daily.

If after repeated tries on a particular day the senior can not be reached, an emergency person will be dispatched to physically check on the senior.

4-Hers attend meet

Wayne County 4-H members and leaders will visit Michigan State University (MSU) this week to participate in the annual 4-H Exploration Days.

The 3-day event, featuring 131 "action-learning" options, is designed to strengthen local 4-H youth programs by giving the 4-Hers and leaders an opportunity to explore a specific interest area, according to Bill Mills, Wayne County Extension 4-H Youth Agent.

"On Saturday the 5,000 4-H members attending will demonstrate what they have learned to the public during '4-H Action Day,'" Mills said.

The continuous activities of Action Day will be held in MSU's Spartan Stadium Concourse from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

If you are a senior citizen who would like to be contacted daily by telephone or would like to be a telephoner, contact 699-6666.

Knob becomes 'Lemontree'; Owners hold Open House

The 1,145-apartment complex known as Knob on the Lake has a new owner, Craig Hall of Ann Arbor; new management by Standard Realty Corp., also of Ann Arbor; and a new name. — Lemontree.

While the residents noticed some changes being made for a few weeks, it wasn't until last Sunday that the new management entertained them all at the clubhouse and announced the news. The public divined something from the new look of the place and the lemon-yellow signs springing up everywhere, but they got the news officially at a 2-day Lemontree Open House last week, which featured everything from a balloon ascension to a turtle race.

Craig Hall, who has been active in real estate investment and management since 1968, purchased Knob on the Lake from Frank J. Volk and Associates of Dearborn. Hall's Standard Realty Corporation, which will manage Lemontree, was formed in 1970 and currently operates more than 4,000 rental units in Michigan and Kentucky.

Immediate plans for the project include improving security measures, instituting a 24-hour maintenance service for residents and an expanded social activities program. At the same time an aggressive marketing program is to be instituted to attract new residents.

Hall, speaking to the press at a special preview of Lemontree, said further plans for the project include additional rental units, in keeping with the original design, and indicated that such expansion probably would dictate additional social and recreational facilities. He also indicated that additional land has been optioned with an eye to the possible development of a shopping mall in the future.

Ground was broken for Knob on the Lake December 1970 in Van Buren Township. The 190-acre site is a strip of land between the I-94 South Service Drive and Belleville Lake, an 8-mile long lake extending from Rawsonville Road east into Belleville proper.

A PGA-rated golf course forms the heart of the development with building units seemingly random-placed around it. Large balconies for upper level units and patios for the ground floor units contribute to the indoor-outdoor life.

More than one-third of the rental units at Lemontree overlook

Belleville Lake, lining more than 6,000 feet of shoreline. Two marinas with launch sites are established for the exclusive use of residents.

Committee eyes old homes

Members of the joint Belleville-Van Buren Township Bicentennial Commission historical committee will be visiting Van Buren Township homes Sunday to find historical structures in the community.

Members of the committee will be in the area bounded by Haggerty, Van Born, Ecorse and Rawsonville roads looking for homes of more than 75 years of age.

According to Cathy Horste, a member of the committee, the group will be using plat maps from 1900 and 1876 to find the homes.

"When we find them, we'll try to interview the residents to learn about both the history of the structures and of the history of the township and city," she said.

The combined historical committee will compile a full history of the area for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of American independence in 1976.

Committee members hope to have the histories in the form of both books and of taped interviews of pioneers of the community.

The historical home search will be included in the written history of the community.

Plans are being made for more searches in both the township and the city during the rest of the summer.

Businessmen attend meet

More than 30,000 independent businessmen, including several from the Belleville area, gathered in Washington, D.C., recently at an Amway Corp. convention. Belleville-area distributors Chum and Helen Stockwell took two Van Buren couples along with them on the annual convention trip for the distributors of household products.

Going to the Washington Convention were Mr. and Mrs. William Pike of Haggerty Road, Van Buren Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Isaacson of Belleville Road, Van Buren Township.

The Washington convention lasted three days.

Class returns from journey

Not all students graduating from Romulus High School went to the ceremonies last week directly from their home.

More than 80 of the students in this year's graduating class returned to the city only days prior to the ceremonies after going on the annual Senior Class Trip to the Caribbean.

The students spent a week in the Caribbean isles.

Cost of the trip was $312 for a round-trip air fare ticket to Miami and another $90 for travel to the Bahamas.

Cathey honored for work

A Romulus man has received an honor from the Knights of Columbus.

Kenneth A. Cathey, known as Sir Knight Kenneth A. Cathey, has been honored with the Supreme Knight's Certificate of Merit for service to his council.

Cathey is a member of the Father Maximilian M. Kolbe Council 6549 of Belleville.

In addition to receiving the certificate of merit, Cathey received hand-crafted sterling silver trinkets from the Catholic Fraternal Society in recognition of his service.

Residents clean up complex

More than 100 persons were involved in last weekend's cleanup campaign at the Oakbrook Townhouse Development in Romulus.

The residents, directed by Linda St. Dennis, the resident advisor at the low-income housing project, cleaned up papers and debris from around the development and planted flowers to beautify the area.

"Our intention was to brighten the area a bit," Miss St. Dennis said. "I think we've succeeded."

For all-area honors

Romulus netter makes team

The outstanding netter from Romulus, Roy Ebersberger, prevented the Wayne-Westland Community Schools' two high schools — Wayne and John Glenn — from making a clean sweep of the 1975 All-Area Tennis Team honors.

Ebersberger, a senior who is a holdover from last year's coveted team, was the lone bright spot in a rather dismal Romulus net set season.

"Roy is an outstanding player who has a lot of potential," said Tom Baldwin, Romulus High's head coach. "He has played No. 1 singles for us the past three years. We could rely on his stick for a point most of the time."

John Glenn, which was runnerup in the Northwest Suburban Conference title race, placed five of its players on the mythical team, while Wayne holds down the other four berths.

John Birk, Dave Cook, Dave Terwilliger, Dave Kehrer and Leroy Bliven represent the Westland high school, while Dennis Erdmann, John Houle, Dan Felske and Daryl Kerce were picked from Wayne High.

The All-Area squad has three sophomores: Terwilliger, Bliven and Houle and only one junior, Cook. Cook, who held down the

Sports

No. 2 singles job for Coach Don Aldrich, also was named to the all-conference team. He climaxed his junior season with an excellent 13-3 won-lost record.

Terwilliger earned his first varsity stripe this year and was undefeated (14-0) in doubles competition, teaming up with Bliven in the No. 1 bracket.

Bliven and Terwilliger also reached the quarter-finals of the state Class A regional competition before ending the season. Both players have been playing competitive tennis for three years.

Kehrer amassed a 15-2-1 won-lost-tied record during the 1975 campaign. He capped the season with a league title. And the young athlete will be heading for Western Michigan University on a scholarship this fall.

Birk is a holdover from last year's squad, and the No. 1 singles entry was instrumental in helping the Westlanders come within one victory of winning their first conference tennis championship.

Erdmann is an athlete scholar. He was graduated Cum Laude from Wayne and will be attending Eastern Michigan University. Though he compiled a 7-5 won-lost record and earned honorable mention on the tough Great Lakes Conference team, Dennis kept the Zebras in the thick of the title race up to the final two weeks of play.

Houle is an "excellent prospect," according to Wayne coach Jack Armstrong.

"We're looking forward to next year because we feel John will be one of the tougher players in the league," he added.

Houle saw action as the Zebras' No. 1 stick and in a league where Fordson and Monroe dominated, Houle picked up a 6-7 won-lost record.

Felske was named to the league's All-Star Team after posting an 8-6 record. "He's the most competitive player I have,"

Armstrong said. "And he just doesn't like to lose."

Felske also is an outstanding student, graduating fifth in the class. He'll enter the University of Michigan (pre-med) next fall.

Kerce was tagged as the Zebras' most improved player after winning nine of 13 matches this season. He also has earned an honorable mention in the Great Lakes conference voting and is looking forward to a career in electronics.

Baum edges rival

Fighting an up-hill battle all the way, Baum's Funeral rallied for five runs in the bottom of the sixth to edge Huron Valley Steel 13-12 in a duel of the top teams in the Romulus Softball League.

Bob Lederle's pinch-hit triple chased home the tying and winning run for Baum's. He went on to get three hits for the day.

Ray Dugan, who gave up 17 hits, was the winning pitcher, while Rick Koklia was charged with the loss.

Baum's Don Skiff had a perfect day at the plate, collected four hits in four appearances. Gene Petrie and Dave Stanfest both went three for four. Teammate Phil Wieserman homered and had a couple of doubles and a single.

The two teams — Baum's and Huron Valley — are tied for first place, each sporting 5-1 records.

Meanwhile, Jerry Palowski posted a rare 7-0 shutout over Howard's

Dairy Bar as Romulus Welding stayed within reach of the leaders.

In the only other game, Romulus Welding also buried Crovas 34-8.

Denim Dolls overpower SWAT

Although the rains stopped the girls in the Romulus Softball League Thursday night, the teams were back in action on Saturday.

And the day rest apparently helped the Denim Dolls who overpowered the Swat Team 24-5 in their first meeting of the season.

Perna Brown, Judy Capeart led the hitting attack as each connected for two triples and a double. Teammate Judy Mullens chipped in three hits, two of those were doubles.

The losers received outstanding efforts from Jelly Deline and Ann Broy who slapped three hits each. Linda Merriman accounted for two safeties.

Chocolate City had little trouble with Odyssey of 2001, emerging atop of a 21-8 score. Brenda Allen's five hits sparked the winner's attack. Yvette Casey and Joey Kersey each had four hits.

Anne Szyndlar drilled the only home run of the game. The 2001 slugger also checked in with two other hits. Teammate Patty McClean hammered four hits, while Sharon Howie and Pam Young combined on a pair of double plays to erase a couple of scoring threats.

The Foul Balls continued to show a lot of poise as they bombed the 69'ers 15-6. Jan Funnell and Mary Podsaid paced the winner's assault, each swatting three singles.

The 69'ers managed to come out with a bit of respectability thanks to the bat of Chery Elliott who cracked three hits. Carol Cosmer and Estella Gram each laced two hits.

The New Streakers edged the Bleepers 11-10 in their first confrontation of the current season. In a see-sawing affair, Faye Savage, Jan Coleman and Anna Phillips came through with key triples.

The Bleeper's main thrust was formed by Delores Kalis who hammered a home run and also contributed two other hits. Teammates Marianne McNaughty and Bernie Daly checked in with two hits apiece.

In other action, the Hustlers had the winning combination when they ran up against the Euphoria, claiming a 19-12 victory. Kathy Remilius belted three home runs in laying the ground-work for the Hustlers' victory.

Tammy Roberts also had an excellent day at the plate as she drilled two homers for the winners. Dannett Hamel swatted three singles.

The Rookies and The Tarantulas turned to their defense and the outcome was a 6-2 Rookie victory. The Tarantulas wasted home runs by Denise Gobany, Barbara Moers and Vicki Brainerd.

Peggy Coleman responded with the Rookies' lone home run and teammates Pat Hamm and Diane Rithaler followed through with two hits each.

Carol Fehmie, Carol Harriff and Phyllis Pultry each slammed home runs as the Bull-Shirts turned back The Electric Warriors 15-2 in an Eastern Division game.

Dennie Owens and Debbie Oldham split four of the Warrior hits, while Mary Anderson batted in a run with a double and Alice Verduco connected for an RBI single to highlight the losers' attack.

The Old Squad enjoyed an easy 29-6 victory over The Spirit of '76. Debbie Wilcox hammered two home runs and ended the day with five hits. Bertha Sterling wound up with five hits in her six appearances at the plate.

Pat Dick played a stellar all-around game for the winners.

Sylvia Dubisky's home run, and a pair of hits each by Diane Summerfield and Marge McCrory led the loser's battery. Peggy Summerfield also came up with a couple of defensive gems, erasing three potential scoring threats at the plate with her pinpoint throws.

Meanwhile, the Kid Power exploded for a 25-4 victory over the Airline Bombers. Tereia Gray and Vicky Gray combined with Tandra Wilson to supply the "Kids" with the scoring power.

Priscilla Gray also stood out for the winners in the outfield.

Evelynn Hamlin chalked up her second decision as a pitcher and helped her own cause by stringing together five hits in five appearances at the plate.

Barn Sypula was tagged for the loss, while teammate Sherry Hensley and Janet Slater contributed two hits.

The Buzz Tropp galloped past the Wiz Kids 11-1 as Debbie DelRosa and Sheila Gira shared six hits. Aiding the winners were Lorraine Weber and Adrienne Cherry who split four hits between them.

Cindy Summers also turned in an excellent defensive performance from her second base position.

Karen May's home run highlighted the Wiz Kids' attack. Teammates Jenny Bodenmiller and Barbara May also collected a couple of hits.

The Seekers didn't have to look very far for a victory when it clashed with Our Gang. Scoring four times in the early stages of the game, the Seekers won a 14-4 duel. Terry Dreyan drilled a home run for the winners.

The Seekers also received excellent hitting efforts from Melody Traifer, Patty Berry and Alice Stratton who each had a couple of hits.

Chris Dupee was the winning pitcher, while Dorothy Clark got the job down defensively at second.

Perch catch increases

The "good old days" are back for Great Lakes perch fishermen after years of diminished catches caused by unchecked commercial harvesting and alewife overpopulation.

"The yellowbelly explosion may not be publicized as well as salmon and steelhead runs, but the average angler should outdo his salmon-hunting cousins in numbers of fish caught, and in angling hours and dollars spent landing them as the news spreads," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

The current perch resurgence has been sparked mainly by the banning of gill nets off Michigan shores and the planting of alewife-hungry salmon in Lakes Huron and Michigan. The perch was in a losing food battle with the small, smelt-like alewife.

"Lakes St. Clair and Erie also hold good perch populations again, although fish run smaller than the slab-siders frequently landed elsewhere," Ratke said. Lake Superior's perch profited less from the gill net ban and salmon plants. Its clear, cold water generally is not good perch habitat.

As Lower Peninsula perch schools grow, public piers and boat liveries are expected to host thousands of persons using everything from handlines to expensive spinning gear to land the 8-to 14-inch fish. Perch usually are found in less than 50 feet of water.

Guenther nab muskie

Westlanders Robert and Leann Guenther nabbed a 7 lb. 31 inch Tiger Muskie from Belleville Lake, and that was one of the biggest catches since the state stocked the waters with a variety of fish two years ago.

"You better give my wife some credit," said Guenther whose father owns a boat marina on the lake. "She helped me pull in this one."

Guenther added that he used a coho lure as bait. And after his Sunday catch, he was back on the water Tuesday to try for an even bigger one, his wife said.

AUTO FACTS

by Jr. Kosin

When the alternator light on the dashboard panel of your car flickers on, it means that the alternator is not recharging the battery. This of course means that sooner or later the engine will stall, because the supply of that all-important commodity, electricity, will be exhausted. This will also cut power to the spark coil, and the ignition system will shut down. If the light goes on, pull off the road and stop the engine to conserve the remaining electricity. Tightening the drive belt may be all that is needed to get you under way again.

Now that vacation season is here, it's a good idea to keep a few spare parts in your car — especially if your plans include long-distance driving. Stop at KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan, Inkster, for the parts you need. We specialize in all kinds of foreign and domestic auto parts. Our friendly and knowledgeable staff will be happy to help you with your car needs. We also have a complete machine shop where our expert machinists handle all kinds of repair service including brake drums, valve jobs and engine rebuilding. Visit KOSIN'S, the "House of a Million Parts," weekdays until 8 P.M. Saturdays until 5 P.M., or call us at 563-3894.

AUTO FACTS: Carry a spare drive belt, and you will be able to install it on the spot.

Retiring nurses honored at farewell party

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Now that the 1974-75 school year has come to its finale, the system not only has seen 515 graduating Belleville High School seniors on their way, but has also come to a parting of the ways with its two school nurses.

Eva Lupher and Marjorie Lingenfelter, who have amassed a total of 39 years in the Van Buren School system, have retired.

Mrs. Lingenfelter, who had the top seniority of the two, had been with the system since June of 1950. Her educational background includes diplomas from Western High School in Detroit, Grace Hospital School of Nursing and Wayne State University's College of Liberal Arts.

She began her nursing career as an RN at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit where she worked for 7 years prior to spending a year doing general duty at Memorial Hospital in Brattleboro, Vt. The New England stint was combined with a visit with an aunt, uncle and cousins. She began public health nursing with the Detroit Health Dept. in 1942 and was employed at both Gratiot Health Center and Herman Keifer Health Center for 7 years.

After earning her certificate in public health nursing from Wayne State, she was hired by the Wayne County Health Dept. Twenty-five years ago she was assigned to Belleville and Van Buren and, in that capacity, did community work but with a special appointment to Van Buren Public Schools.

Seven years later, in 1957, due to expansion of the school district in 2 counties, she was hired as a full-time nurse. She has seen the school district grow from 2,000 to the present enrollment of over 8,000. Her career began when only Denton, the high school and the old high school (where the A&P presently is located) comprised the system. She leaves with it now including 1 high school, 8 elementary and 2 junior high schools.

And while Mrs. Lingenfelter will be remembered as short and dark, her counterpart, Eva Lupher, will go down in memory as tall and light.

Mrs. Lupher, who resides at 23260 Karr Rd., Belleville, not only has been involved in school activities, but is an active member of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) and was its president in 1963-64. She is also a member of Belleville Chapter 73, Order of Eastern Star, and is a past Worthy Matron; and is on the membership rolls at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

This past April, along with her nursing "buddy," Mrs. Lingenfelter, she joined the Belleville Senior Citizens Club.

In looking over this year's crop of seniors at the high school, she can reminisce about her own graduation from Lakeville High School in 1927. She decided to work at the Spencer Perfume Factory in South Bend, Ind. before entering nurse's training two years later at Henry Ford Hospital. She earned her RN degree in 1932 and remained as a staff nurse at Ford for two years.

She then furthered her education by working for a bachelor of science degree in elementary education at Manchester College of North Manchester, Ind. She taught fifth grade in Battle Creek for one year before joining the Department of Health in Detroit as a public health nurse. While employed she attended night classes and studied for a BS in nursing.

Then came World War II and a whole turn of events which took her into the Army Nurse Corps for two years. Her army assignments took her to Scotland and then onto England and France where she worked in the psychiatric divisions of unit hospitals there.

In April of 1946 she returned to Detroit and the city's health department and a year later was awarded her BS in nursing at Wayne State University. In 1951 she resigned from the Detroit unit and began work with the Wayne County Health Dept.

1954 was a memorable year since she married Theodore Lupher and took up residence in Sumpter Township adding household administration to her many credits. It was 7 years later that she said her adieu to Wayne County and joined forces with Mrs. Lingenfelter in the Van Buren system.

A retirement party in honor of the pair was recently held in the school's administration building. Masterminded by Phyllis Greer, the festivities were attended by administrators, teachers, the secretarial departments and other staffers.

It was a time for recalling the days of yore but mostly it was a time for well-wishing and God speed to greatly respected humanitarians who will be missed by all their associates.

Around town

Paris visitors laud America

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Their first visit to the United States left Parisian residents, Alfred Natale and his 17-year old son, Christian, with a very warm and happy feeling. Their recent flight across the Atlantic was prompted by the wedding of their niece and cousin, Sheila Metcalf, who became Mrs. Marty Soehren recently.

Arriving from France May 17, they were the houseguests of Alfred's sister and husband, Henriette and Albert Metcalf of Harris Road, Belleville. On the 24th they all attended the nuptial ceremony at Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak and the reception which followed in Wayne at the K. of C. Club.

In between their arrival and departure on May 31, the European pair were escorted to such sights as Greenfield Village, Belle Isle, Cedar Pointe, Bob-Lo and a couple spots in Canada.

The senior Natale was particularly impressed with the feeling of a small city such as Belleville as compared to the hectic pace of a metropolis like Paris. He was amazed, too (believe it or not) at the low cost of food and other commodities in the USA. He could hardly grasp the fact that so many of us are complaining about the high cost of living.

FOUR-DAY VISITOR
Cathy and Robert Horste of Martinsville Road, Belleville, were delighted with the recent visit from her mother and step-father, Ruth and Bob Beard. The pair (she was a long-time resident of this area) decided to drive up from Boone, N.C. for a brief visit and to check up on their little granddaughter, 4-year old Martha Louise Horste.

While here the Beards also called on her 84-year old mother, Delena Wicker of New Boston, as well as other relatives and friends in the vicinity.

GRAD IS FETED
Among the recent Belleville High School graduates to receive congratulations from relatives and friends was Debbie Duane of Edison Lake Road. Her party, planned as a pre-grad celebration, was hosted June 7 by her mother and step-father, Maxine and George Heifner.

Invitations to the evening buffet were answered by some 50 guests including former neighbors from Southgate and Debbie's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Turtle of Lincoln Park.

Roger Bird, Julie Tkachuk wed at Methodist Church

Two graduates of Belleville High School, Julie Tkachuk and Roger Bird, exchanged marriage vows at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville May 24. The 6 p.m. rite was conducted by the Rev. Joy E. Arthur before some 200 assembled relatives and friends.

The ceremony united the daughter of Agnes Tkachuk of 192 Belle Villa Blvd., Belleville, and the late Steve Tkachuk, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bird of 46470 Bemis Road, Belleville.

Music for the occasion was played and sung by the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, James and Rosalie Southward of Belleville.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brothers, James and Charles, and given in marriage by her mother. For her wedding day she chose a white A-line gown designed with a halter bodice and white lace bolero jacket. Three small red roses secured her shoulder length veil and she carried a cascade of white roses accented with red and white rosebuds, all made of satin ribbon.

Barbara Diedrich of Belleville was chosen to be her cousin's maid of honor. Her mint green dress and those worn by the other attendants were identical to the bride's with the exception of their short jackets which were designed with hoods.

Others comprising the bridal coterie and wearing gowns in pastel peach, pink, lavender, purple, blue and yellow were Mrs. Joseph Cartier of Birmingham, a cousin; Mrs. Gerald Perkins of Wayne; Mrs. Michael Fleming of Belleville, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. James Tkachuk of Belleville, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. James Reed and Mrs. Daryl Bauman, both of Belleville.

Mrs. Bauman made the bride's bouquet and those carried by the bridesmaids as well as the boutonnières and corsages. All were fashioned of satin ribbon.

Best man was James Reed of Belleville. Groomsmen, all friends from Belleville, included Wayne Suttles, James Harris, George Alger, David Remus, Daryl Bauman and Terry Wilburn. Ushers were Craig Bird and Charles Tkachuk, brothers of the bride.

At the reception which followed at the K of C Hall in Wayne, the 450 guests were greeted by the bride's mother in an ice pink formal gown and the bridegroom's mother in a mint green ensemble. Both wore corsages to match their outfits.

The newlyweds, who are planning a trip at a future date, are making their home at 48510 Denton Road, Apt. 106, Belleville.

The new Mrs. Bird graduated in 1971 and currently is working in the office of information services at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Her husband, a 1968 graduate, works as an aircraft mechanic at Selfridge Air Force Base in Mt. Clemens.

The rehearsal party, a buffet style dinner, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Bird of Romulus with 36 in attendance.

Pvt. Perry, who is serving with the U.S. Army at Fort Carson, Colo., is the son of Joe Dale Perry of Oakland, Calif. and Carolyn Markwell of 38453 Judd Road, New Boston. He attended Huron High School before entering the army.

Candlelight ceremony unites Parker-Tononi

Double-ring vows were exchanged by Fae A. Tononi and Stephen R. Parker in a recent spring ceremony at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. The Rev. Carl E. Benander presided at the 6:30 p.m. candlelight service.

The bride, who made her home at 823 Green St., Ypsilanti, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Tononi of Flemington, N.J., formerly of Belleville, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tononi of Belleville. Her bridegroom is the son of Robert Parker of E. McKay, Saline, and Catherine Messer of 407 Meadowview, St. Johns, Mich.

The soloist for the occasion was Sue Watson who sang "The Wedding Song."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in organza over taffeta, the bodice fashioned with a modified V-neckline and long sheer sleeves. A wide brimmed picture hat secured her floor-length veil and she held a bouquet comprised of gardenias and stephanotis.

A life-long friend, Margaret Bole of Belleville, was honor attendant. The trio of bridesmaids included Donna Thacker of Lynchburg, Va., the bride's college roommate; Marilyn Parker of St. Johns, the bridegroom's sister, and Pat Whichello of Ypsilanti, another roommate.

Their floral print gowns were in shades of aqua, navy and pale blue with touches of pink and green. Matching fabric was used to sash the crowns of the soft brimmed hats they wore. They, too, carried arrangements of gardenias but with carnations for contrast.

The flowergirl, 6-year old Kris Barnhart, a cousin of the bridegroom, wore a miniature version of the senior attendants' frocks and carried a basket filled with daisies, carnations and baby's breath.

Best man was Tom Werynen of Ypsilanti and ushers were Gary Lambert of Ypsilanti, and Kevin Park and Duane Becker, both of St. Johns.

Bryan Messer, 5, was ringbearer at his brother's wedding.

Mrs. Tononi received in a salmon-colored floor length gown while the bridegroom's mother chose to wear a pale blue 3-piece suit in floor length. Both were presented with gardenia corsages.

UAW Local 735 of Belleville was reserved for the reception which was attended by some 200 guests.

Following a brief honeymoon in the area, the newlyweds took up residence in the bride's Ypsilanti apartment.

The new Mrs. Parker, who attended Van Buren public schools most of her life, graduated from Hunterdon Central High School in Flemington, N.J., and Bauder Fashion College of Miami, Fla. She now is employed at Fontana Taylor Ambulance Service of Ann Arbor.

Her husband, a graduate of St. Johns High School, attended Michigan Technological and Eastern Michigan universities. He was affiliated with Tau Epsilon fraternity at EMU and currently is employed at Montgomery Ward at Arborland.

Dunigan-Allred united

BHS grads wed in Ann Arbor

Barbara Jean Allred and Lanny Dunigan, both 1973 graduates of Belleville High School, were united in marriage at the Free Methodist Church of Ann Arbor.

Candlelight set the mood for the 7:30 p.m. service which was read by The Rev. William Cryderman before some 200 guests.

For the double-ring rite May 3, the bride selected a gown of silk organza with ribbon-threaded lace forming the ring collar, sweetheart neckline and cuffs. The same lace was used as inserts on the long, billowing sleeves and again to frame her silk illusion veil which fell from a little crescent cap.

A hand bouquet of white daisies, baby's breath and green ivy was held by the bride as she approached the altar. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Euell Allred of 2052 Crittendon St., Ypsilanti. Her bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Dunigan of 1639 Smith Avenue, Ypsilanti.

Chosen to be her sister's maid of honor, Dora Allred of Ann Arbor donned a pale blue dotted swiss gown and large-brimmed hat. The bouquet she carried was made up of blue daisies and blue baby's breath.

Walking up the aisle in an identical pink ensemble was Pam Allred, sister-in-law of the bride, from Ypsilanti; Joan Wilde of Ypsilanti in yellow, and Diane Smith of Ypsilanti in green.

Also in a dotted swiss frock in blue was the 4-year old flowergirl, Tabatha Bell, who held a basket of daisies and baby's breath and wore a bow in her hair.

The bride's 4-year old nephew, Michael Allred, served as ringbearer.

Attending the bridegroom were Dean Smith of Ypsilanti as best man, a brother Harold Dunigan and Wendell W. Le, both of Ypsilanti, and Tony Hanson of Ann Arbor.

Following the ceremony a reception for 200 guests took place at UAW Local 735 Union Hall of Belleville.

The bridegroom currently is stationed with the U.S. Army at Fort Carson in Colorado Springs, Colo. where he also is attending school. The couple will make their home near the base.

Irene Ross receives 60-year Grange pin

Mrs. D. W. (Irene) Ross of Liberty Street, Belleville, was surprised when two women from the Plymouth Grange, Hilda Lunn, the secretary, and Louise Tritton, came to call recently. They presented Mrs. Ross with a gold pin honoring her on her 60 year membership in the Belleville and Plymouth Grange.

During the years she had held various offices, lecturer and Master, in the Belleville Grange after Linda Rogers resigned to become treasurer. She also was a state and County official holding the office of Ceres.

Pair honeymoon in Florida following spring wedding

The newly wed C. Mark Cotter honeymooned for one week in Orlando, Fla. before taking up residence at 218 N. Broad St., Adrian.

Victoria L. Bryant, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Bryant of 4985 Denton Rd., Belleville, became Mrs. Cotter in a recent spring ceremony held at Faith United Methodist Church in Denton.

Double ring vows were exchanged before The Rev. N.R. Beckwith and The Rev. D. Harvey. Arrangements of mixed rainbow-colored flowers were placed on the altar for the candlelight rite at 7 p.m.

Some 200 guests saw the bride escorted up the aisle by her father. She appeared in a toe-touching gown of silk illusion over net with the empire bodice, high neckline and long sleeves frosted with Chantilly lace and seed pearls.

A Juliet cap held her lace-trimmed illusion veil which fell to elbow length and a bouquet of miniature white carnations, roses and baby's breath centered with a single red rose completed her ensemble.

Pastel colored frocks were chosen for the five bridal attendants who also wore matching picture hats. The honor attendant, Mrs. Mark Spencer of Ypsilanti, a life-long friend of the bride, carried a bouquet of blue carnations and daisies in rainbow hues to complement her pale blue dotted swiss gown. The dress was styled in the empire mode with a high neckline and long sleeves.

Her husband graduated from Randolph Southern High School in Lynn, Ind. in 1966; Miami Jacobs Junior College of Dayton, Ohio in 1968 and Cleary College in 1973. # State camps: Wild

Michigan's 79 state parks and recreation areas offer visitors attractions unique to the state, from campsites within earshot of a symphony in the pines to others amidst the growls of wild animals.

If campers like to rough it in a true wilderness setting, they can pick any of several campgrounds in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. If they only want a taste of the outdoors a few minutes from urban life, a state park is there, too.

A site catering to the hobbies, interests and whims of almost anyone is no more than an hour's drive away from any major city in the state.

Interested in ship-watching? Stay at the 981-acre Algonac State Park along the St. Clair River, where campers almost are within touching distance of European and American flag ships plying the St. Lawrence Seaway. Campers pride themselves on knowing many of the ship's home ports.

For classical music among the pines, stay at Interlochen State Park, adjoining the National Music Camp, where summer concerts by the cream of the country's musical genius are performed June 24 through Aug. 17. The park also has more than a mile of beach on two lakes.

If you want to escape civilization, Porcupine Mountains State Park near Ontonagon is the place. Stay at the improved campground or hike deep into the park's interior to cabins available for rent. Hikers frequently see deer, porcupines, and even a bear or two at the primitive sites.

Or drive to Hartwick Pines State Park near Grayling for quiet if you're drowning in the sounds, heat and bustle of the city. Quiet meditation along cedar chip trails or in the Chapel in the Pines awaits visitors to this 9,138-acre tract.

Michigan's newest state park, Maybury, near Northville is less than an hour from Detroit. Miles of hiking and bicycling trails are open, as well as a farm where children can pet and feed animals. If you're not a hiking devotee, you may not want to go, as most of the day-use park is closed to motorized traffic.

Sterling State Park north of Monroe is an alternate. Although its Lake Erie beach still is closed to swimming, the park's 192 campsites provide a getaway close to home for many state residents.

Mitchell State Park near

Cadillac is the state's smallest, but it also is one of the most popular. With beaches and boating on both Lakes Cadillac and Mitchell, it usually is the first park on a large inland lake that Grand Rapids residents flock to a few hours from home.

Commissioners seek to avoid hospital cuts

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has ordered that layoff notices issued to 35 Wayne County General Hospital employees be rescinded while other means of saving some $1.7 million at the hospital are sought.

The county legislative body June 5 directed the 5-member hospital governing body — the Board of County Institutions — to rescind the notices, as recommended by the board's Human Resources Committee.

However, the Board of Commissioners killed a Human Resources Committee recommendation that the Board of Institutions be censured for approving the notices without board clearance. The hospital board consists of three county commissioners and two elected county auditors.

As part of an effort to avoid a possible $6.7 million budget deficit, the board approved a requirement that the hospital save $1.7 million of its budget of some $40 million. Other county departments also are under orders to make proportionate savings.

Also approved was a stipulation that representatives of the hospital management and employees and the board meet to discuss ways of achieving the savings.

The 35 employees had received three weeks' notice that they would be laid off Friday.

County Commissioners Samuel A. Turner, chairman of the board's Ways and Means Committee and a Board of Institutions member, however said, few, if any, actually would be put out of work since most could claim jobs in other departments on a basis of their seniority. He added that one or two individual cases of hardship among the 35 were going to be taken care of.

Turner said the hospital administration already had instituted $1.1 million worth of non-personnel cutbacks and saw no other way of saving the balance of the mandated $1,715,000.

None of the affected workers are in patient care jobs. They included building tradesmen, fire fighters, institutional guards, power plant helpers, motor pool workers, laundry workers, maintenance personnel, laborers, food service workers and microfilm clerks.

OH GRANNY — It's hard to act the part of a grandmother when you're in the third grade, but young Rhonda Shelby tackled the role of an elderly woman during her class's production of "Gingerbread Boy." The show was part of the Elwell Spring Program.

Elwell program called success

Students show off their talent

The 1975 Elwell Spring Program was a tremendous success, by school officials.

It was the first time that Elwell had held a program in the Belleville High School Auditorium and the move was a good one. Parents relatives and friends packed the auditorium to hear the kindergarten, first, second and third grades perform, a school spokesman said.

The program was under the direction of Ann O'Beay, Elwell's vocal music teacher, with special attention focused on the kindergartners, under the direction of Judith Hollister, kindergarten teacher at Elwell. Numbers performed by the kindergarten class included "Baby Bumble Bee," "Six Little Ducks," and "Eensy Weensy Spider."

The first grade classes performed "Little White Duck," "Three White Gulls," "Winnie The Pooh," "Siamese Cat Song" and "Elephant Song."

The second grade classes tackled "Who Built The Ark," "Mister Frog Went a Courtin'," "Sheep Shearing," "Kwakiyima (The Clever Monkey)," and "Porcupine Song."

The third grades performed "Don Gato," "Sneaky Snake," "Puff

The Magic Dragon," "Gingerbread Boy," "Blue Tail Fly" and "The Crowdad Hole."

The special treat for the evening was A Bicentennial Send-Off" which was done by the "Elwell Entertainers," a select group of fifth and sixth grade chorus members, under the direction of Miss O'Beay. They performed their theme song "The Entertainer" and they broke into a patriotic repertoire which included "This Land Is Your Land," "You're A Grand Old Flag," "Stars and Stripes Forever," "City Blues," and "Up With People."

Special thanks has gone to Nancy Markel, Mariam

Horowitz, Patricia Hackney, teachers, and parent Danna Jeffrey for their assistance in costuming and transportation, Henry Koski for his assistance at the auditorium; Edna Florian for her assistance in doing the programs, and Sue Stall for the musical accompaniment.

Belleville woman leads marchers

A Belleville woman, Debra Phillips, was among residents taking part in the recent door-to-door campaign for Muscular Dystrophy (MD).

Miss Phillips lead marchers in the Belleville area during the 4-hour campaign.

Proceeds from the drive will support medical research and patient services for victims of Muscular Dystrophy. The disease, as yet incurable, primarily attacks children and nearly always is fatal.

Local MD patients receive diagnosis, lab tests, physical and occupational therapy, braces, wheelchairs, and social services at Detroit's Muscular Dystrophy Clinic. The clinic, supported annually by MD's house-to-house campaign, is free of charge to all MD patients in the state.

National PTA gains grant for health ed

The national organization of Parent-Teacher Associations (PTA) will be launching a major project later this year to stimulate the development of new approaches to health education in schools and the communities they serve, according to a report at the groups national convention recently.

Representatives of Western Wayne County PTAs taking part in the gathering heard president Lillie E. Herndon report that the National PTA has netted a contract from two agencies — the Bureau of Health Education for Disease Control and the U.S. Office of Education — of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). The contract is for $140,706.

With the funding provided by the HEW contract, the National PTA will seek to increase community awareness and support for more effective school health education programs, utilizing from six to 10 pilot projects selected from proposals submitted by state PTAs — PTSAs (Parent-Teacher-Student Associations in high schools), or PTA councils — groups of local PTA units.

"This contract, represents another step toward achieving one of the National PTA's primary objectives — the eventual inclusion of comprehensive health education programs in all public schools, from kindergarten through grade 12," Mrs. Herndon said. "One of our major legislative efforts for the past two years has been the passage of the Comprehensive School Health Education Act."

"The PTA's focusing on health education is motivated by our understanding that comprehensive school programs on this subject are available to only a small percentage of the student population in this country. This situation points up the need for a coordinated, systematic, and comprehensive approach to the integration of health education programs into the curriculum."

"It is ironic, indeed, that of the $75 billion spent on health care annually, only one-half of 1 percent is used for health education."

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Romulus City Council held on the 3rd day of June, 1975.

Cherry Festival is just part of lure of Traverse Bay area

Michigan's "Cherry Country" — the Traverse City area — is a charming corner of the state offering summer vacationers quaint villages, mammoth sand dunes, remote lighthouses and fine restaurants as well as picturesque fruit orchards.

A good place to start the 143-mile ramble through the Old Mission and Leelanau peninsulas is Traverse City, a bustling town that bills itself the "Cherry Capital of the Nation."

While in Traverse City, visit the beach, the zoo and the Con Foster Museum at Clinch Park on Grand Traverse Bay. The zoo, with its excellent display of native animals, is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. The museum, open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. every day during the summer, has an outstanding collection of Indian and pioneer artifacts.

Clinch Park also boasts a "mini" Traverse City. A replica of the town, complete with dwarf trees, is a park highlight.

To appreciate the importance of the cherry industry to the area, visit Traverse City during its Cherry Festival of July 7-12. This annual extravaganza will feature parades, arts and crafts exhibits, a midway cooking contest and tours of nearby orchards. The Cherry County Theater opens July 1 with a 9-week summer playbill featuring many prominent stage and TV personalities.

Before leaving Traverse City, stop at the Boardman River to view the flock of mute swans on Grand Traverse Bay. Then head for Old Mission Peninsula, a 20-mile-long silver of land where there are more cherry trees per square mile than any other place in the nation. The area's first cherry crop should be ripening by the second week of July.

The 40-mile loop around Old Mission Peninsula can be made in slightly more than an hour, but plan on a 2-hour trip with stops. Several spots offer spectacular views of both the east and west arms of Grand Traverse Bay. At the tip of the peninsula, tour the grounds at Old Mission Lighthouse, an excellent picnic spot.

The 105-mile tour of Leelanau County's scenic peninsula (plan at least a full day with stops) can begin at Traverse City by heading 37 miles north on M-22 to Lighthouse Point. This locale offers another fine picnic spot and a chance to see a second lighthouse.

En route, visit Suttons Bay for arts and crafts shops and Northport, if you're interested in antiques. If making this trip later in the summer, try to visit Peshabestown on Aug. 23-25 for the Chippewa and Ottawa Indian pow-wow. The annual event features ceremonial dancing and Indian handicrafts.

To conue the tour from the lighthouse, head south for 19 miles on M-22 along the Lake Michigan shore to Leland, famous for Fishtown and dress shopping. Fishtown is located below the dam on the shore of Carp River at Lake Michigan. Shacks along the bank offer items ranging from smoked fish to pottery and jewelry.

The South and North Manitou islands near Leland offer scenic woodlands, foot trails and fishing to visitors. South Manitou has overnight accommodations — both a lodge and campgrounds. Daily boat service to South Manitou is available from Leland; boats run Monday, Wednesday and Friday to North Manitou.

Then go 18 miles south to Glen Arbor and the scenic Glen Lake area. Eight miles further at Glen Haven, take a dune buggy ride into the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore. Daily trips run from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in June and to 5:30 p.m. in July and August.

Before connecting with M-72 at Empire and returning 23 miles east to Traverse City, take a walk through the Sleeping Bear Dunes. This federal park has 61,000 acres of rolling wild country along the Lake Michigan shore in Leelanau and Benzie counties.

Within a 35-mile radius of Traverse City, vacationers will find more than 2,000 hotel and motel rooms. During the peak of the summer tour season, advance reservations are advised. Campers will find at least 10 private campgrounds plus several state, county and municipal parks in the tour area.

Board shows disfavor to making store a jail

A proposal to convert a department store warehouse into a Wayne County jail facility is inadequate and "operationally unfeasible," according to studies by the State Department of Corrections and the Buildings Division of the County Board of Auditors.

Reports from both authorities were submitted at a joint meeting of the Board's Public Works and Public Safety and Judiciary committees recently.

The Grossman Real Estate Corp. had proposed converting a surplus J.L. Hudson warehouse into a 750-bed jail complex in lieu of planned construction of two entirely new facilities, one for downtown Detroit and one for Western Wayne County.

Grossman officials said they have an option to buy the building and want either to sell or lease it to the county after it has been modified to meet jail needs. The firm offered to sell the property, after renovation, for $18 million out-right or lease it for $2 million per year with option for the County to buy it for $1 after 25 years.

According to both studies, conversion of the warehouse to a jail would present major security problems, cause mingling of inmates and jail staff, not provide for adequate separation of male and female prisoners, and not meet state and city jail and building codes.

The warehouse is located at Beaubien and Madison, one block from the present jail, but still is too far from the courts and Detroit Police Headquarters for efficient and safe operation, the reports indicated.

The Building Division noted the lack of a connecting tunnel, and said this would incur added costs for transportation of prisoners to and from the courts and would jeopardize security.

In submitting the two reports, the 3-member elected County Board of Auditors described the proposal as "poor from an operational point of view."
